ALUMNI PANEL DISCUSSION: PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE:
PREPARING UNDERGRADUATES FOR MEDICAL AND DENTAL SCHOOL

SEPTEMBER 19, 2008
10 AM-12 NOON
JIMENEZ ROOM, STAMP STUDENT UNION

This panel discussion will feature UMD alumni practicing in the medical and dental fields. Dr. Mickey Foxwell, the current Dean of Admissions at the University of Maryland Medical School will speak, as well as other alumni from the 1950's through the 1990's. Come and hear what they have to say about how things were for them as undergraduates, what gave them the edge and where their careers have taken them. This conversation will be especially relevant to those in the 2009 applicant pool as well as those preparing to enter the 2010 applicant pool, but students, faculty and staff across the board will find this dynamic panel engaging and informative.

Opening Welcome – Dr. Reid Compton, Department of Biology

Moderator – Wendy Loughlin, Director, Health Professions Advising Office

Speakers: Sherita Hill Golden, MD, MPH – Johns Hopkins and role of research and public health, Mike Rudolph, DDS – Military service and health professions, Mickey Foxwell, MD – Dean of Admissions, UM, what gives applicants an “edge”, Bob Beazley, MD – Retired surgeon, BU Medical School, Special Advisor to Dean – coping with financial pressures, communication and being a well rounded person, Lisa Bradley, Asst. Dean, CLFS – Closing remarks
